Privacy Statement

The Council for Professions Allied with Medicine is the regulatory body for the allied professions in the Cayman Islands and operates under the Department of Health Regulatory Services. We are required by law to keep a register of qualified professionals who are licenced to practice. We handle and process personal data of individuals in order to facilitate applications for registration and renewal of practicing licences to fulfil legal statutory obligations required by law. The information provided by applicants informs the decision making of the Council, enabling admission to maintenance of accurate professional registers. All information provided is kept confidential and is only shared if the practitioner gives written permission to do so, except in the case of a criminal investigation. We may also process personal data in order to comply with audit requirements and other legal obligations; to obtain legal advice; to establish, exercise or defend legal rights; and to produce statistics or reports that do not identify any individual.
